MR. EDITOR:—Will you kindly permit me space to call the attention of the new Ministry and the Legislature to the situation of the people who have bought from the Government all the surveyed homesteads in the district of Puna, and others planting coffee in their vicinity all on the line of the new road survey. They have planted coffee there with the idea that the Government was going to put a road through the district, and if the present legislative assembly does not do something for them, they will lose about all they have invested and their labor too, as it will cost them so much to transport their coffee to market. There are 100 acres planted, 32 acres being two and a half years old and bearing a slight crop this year. Twenty-five of these belong to natives on the Catholic Mission lands, and seven to Mr. R. A. Lyman. Mr. Mooney has eight acres over a year old, also on the Catholic Mission land and the balance is owned by thirteen homesteaders, native and foreign, making in all about twenty odd parties who are interested and still planting as fast as they can.
Now, Mr. Editor, if these people, who are 14 miles from the nearest boat landing available, which is reached over an old native trail and a rough one, are not helped by the Government and money enough appropriated to connect them with a landing by wagon road before two years are out, the Government will be doing more to handicap the coffee industry in Puna than anything else I know of.

What I should propose to do, and I have discussed the matter with both Mr. Loebenstein and Mr. Marlin, is to make a road from these homesteads to the head of the Pohoiki road, three miles from the landing—a matter of about six miles. If the Government would appropriate $15,000 it would be sufficient to build a good wagon road. I speak knowingly, as I have made roads over just such country. I will give them the use of my road free for two years, provided the Government will, at the end of that time, pay me for my road the same rate per mile that it has cost them to make the other six. The landing at Pohoiki is already free. Please bear in mind this six miles is part of the main road through the district.

There is no doubt that Puna will become a great coffee country, but it has its drawbacks, and small planters will not be able to cure their own coffee on barbacues, as they do in some other countries, for it is liable to rain at any moment without notice; there being no dry seasons to be depended on, and coffee will have to be dried artificially, which necessitates the putting up of large buildings and machinery, a thing which I am preparing for my own—and I have two axes to grind in the matter. I expect to hull and cure the coffee for these planters, and they have been figuring on that also; and the other is, I should like a chance to contract on the building of the road, which I could put through in short order.

ROBT. RYCROFT.
Pohoiki, Puna, Hawaii, Sept. 24.

The "Flaneur."

MR. EDITOR: The individual who under the above signature has been getting his sickly squibs into the Liberal, has succeeded in proving his exclusive claim to the above pseudonym, which is a fair equivalent to the English words loafer and vagabond, or the Italian lazzaroni. For years this individual has been a public parasite, fattening in one shape or other at the public expense owing to the lucky circumstance that he was cash ashore on the raft of a hen-coop, and married a relation of a perennial statesman. His usual occupation of hanging around the liquor stores of Merchant street swallowing stray drops of inspiration does possibly dim the luster of his eye-glass, to the extent of not allowing him to perceive, that he is not morally qualified to speak in public or private on behalf of any party, or make free with the names of Thurston or Waterhouse.

The DAILY ADVERTISER (6 pages, 42 columns) publishes more news and has a larger advertising patronage than any newspaper published in the Hawaiian Islands.
